Colleagues and Friends,

We invite you to join seven Midwest Campus Compacts in support of the Midwest Campus Compact Conference, which will be held June 6-7, 2017 at Loyola University, Chicago. This year's conference, Doing Democracy: Asset-Based Engagement and Culture Change, will bring together a wide array of faculty, staff, students and administrators from across the Midwest with opportunities to learn, explore, connect, and prepare for bold, thoughtful action.

We're all too aware these days that campuses and communities are wrestling with racial divides, political polarization, and economic inequality that endanger our democracy. As we recommit to higher education's public purposes--and gather in Chicago, home of the Asset-Based Community Development Institute--a focus on our campuses' and communities' strengths is critical. Your support of this event, as a sponsor or exhibitor, will help to advance critical deliberative dialogue regarding challenges, trends, best practices and emerging opportunities.

Please consider the opportunity to join us, in person or spirit, as we explore and advance the civic purpose and power of higher education. Please return the sponsor commitment form via email to rgrinnell@micampuscompact.org or contact us for more information.

Thank you in advance for your consideration!

Sincerely,

Natalie Furlett, Illinois Campus Compact

J.R. Jamison, Indiana Campus Compact

Emily Shields, Iowa Campus Compact

Robin Lynn Grinnell, Michigan Campus Compact
